MORGAN SHOT BY TEACHER

BANDITS SEIZE BIG PAYROLL; ESCAPE IN CAR

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Armed with automatic revolvers three daring bandits in broad daylight stopped an automobile and held up James Harries, cashier of the Pacific Coast Glass Company, and B. Kaufner, a salesman, accompanying him and escaped with the machine and $3300, comprising the weekly payroll.

Although armed and prepared for just such an emergency, Harries and Kaufner were taken so by surprise that they were unable to offer any resistance and were compelled to stand on the sidewalk with their hands in the air while the highwaymen made off with their car and the sacks of gold and silver coin which it contained.

The holdup occurred at 11:30 o'clock. As is the custom, Harries in a Ford runabout went to the Anglo-California branch bank at Sixteenth and Mission streets. He was accompanied by Kaufner. A revolver was kept in the machine close at hand.

The coin was given them by the paying teller in gold and silver and carried in sacks to the machine. They had started back and had almost reached their destination when the robbery occurred.

WAYLAIN IN STREET.

They were passing the corner of Eighth and Irwin streets. There is a coal yard on the block and a warehouse of the Standard Oil Company opposite. One of the bandits was concealed behind a telegraph pole. With a sudden jump he climbed on the back of the machine, and before its occupants realized what was happening, they were covered with an automatic revolver. Then from the coal yard there sprang the two other robbers. They compelled Harries and Kaufner to alight.

With their hands still in the air, the victims obeyed. One of the robbers reached his hand into Harries' pocket to be sure that there was no currency there, while the others turned the machine. All sprang in and made off, covering the two men with their hands put considerable distance between them.

Harries and Kaufner dashed into the Standard Oil Company office, procured a machine and pursued. The chase led towards San Mateo county, where on the San Bruno road the pursuers lost their quarry.

POLICE ARE CALLED.

Meantime, Standard Oil employees and others who had seen the hold-up from a distance telephoned the police. The Ingleside, Bay View patrol and Mission station started motorcycles and mounted officers in the direction of the chase, but the culprits slipped through. Later the San Mateo county authorities were notified.

Meanwhile Detectives Conlon and Mackey, leading a posse of upper officers, started from headquarters in police autos.

"I was in the machine with Mr. Kaufner," declared Harries after the hold-up. "We had our revolvers, but resistance was useless. They had us covered. They sprang as though from the earth. We could do nothing. We chased them, but they got away from us."

PETROGRAD, via London, July 3, 11:17 a. m.—The official journal today published an imperial edict authorizing the Russian minister of finance to make two issues of treasury obligations of $250,000,000 each. The issue is to be in the shape of 5 per cent short term notes, free of income tax.

MONSTER FISH DIE BY HUNDREDS ON BAY SHORE; THREATEN HEALTH

The presence of more than 500 dead stingrays on the western waterfront, near the Judson Manufacturing Company's plant, making probable an epidemic of disease in this neighborhood, was reported today by Dr. A. P. Gillman, city health director, and Dr. F. F. Jackson, commissioner of public health and safety.

Dr. Gillman recommends that immediate action be taken to have the bodies of the dead fish buried. About a ton and a half of stingrays have already been buried by employees of the Judson Manufacturing works, but more are fast accumulating and the stench in the district is nauseating.

JUDGE MELVIN BURIES NURSE BY MOTHER

At a simple service in Mountain View cemetery yesterday afternoon Henry A. Melvin, justice of the Supreme Court of the State of California, with his brother, James Melvin, and their sister, Mrs. Margaret Dewing, paid touching tribute to a memory of a woman who had been as a second mother to them. They placed her ashes in an urn in a spot adjacent to the remains of her mother.

The woman was Mary Mara, who died in San Diego last week. She had for many years lived in the city of Oakland, where she had been a nurse. Her dying request, made to an aunt of Justice Melvin, was that her ashes should be placed next to those of her mother. The remains were sent to Oakland, and yesterday taken in charge

SHIP IS LOST; ONE MISSING

By Associated Press.
LONDON, July 3, 4:45 p. m.—The British steamship Gadsby of 347 tons gross, was sunk today by a German submarine. The Gadsby sailed from Sydney, C. E. June 18, for a European port.

An empty lifeboat and another boat marked "Gadsby" were towed into Penzance, England, today. It is suggested that the steamship Craigard, of 228 tons gross, which sailed from Galveston, June 3, and Newport News, June 11, for Havre, may have been the victim of a German submarine, though there is no proof of this and nothing has been heard regarding her crew.

TWO WIVES SEEK; HE HIDES

W. H. Godfrey, Local Realty Man, Jailed at Fresno

Found Secreted Beneath Residence of One of Spouses

FRESNO, July 3.—W. H. Godfrey, a real estate broker of Oakland, was arrested in Fresno this morning on a charge of bigamy.

Godfrey was found by the police in hiding under the house of his first wife.

According to the police, Godfrey confessed to the police that he was not divorced from Wife No. 1 when he married Wife No. 2. The accused man has been in hiding for several days.

He told the police he hid in the Fresno cemetery and in the courthouse park until he was started out. He crawled under the home of Wife No. 1 last night and was discovered this morning.

Wife No. 2 returned to Oakland yesterday. She announced her intention of bringing suit to annul her marriage to Godfrey.

Mrs. Godfrey, who returned to the home of her mother in Oakland last night, declared that she had no doubt but that her husband would be able to straighten out his matrimonial difficulties if he could only return and fix up the bad matter. She expressed a firm belief in his innocence.

Mrs. Godfrey No. 2 also declared that all of her husband's troubles were contributed by his first wife, who has sought to prove that he did not obtain his final decree of divorce from her before he remarried. Godfrey, who is a real estate man of Oakland and Fresno, married the second time here about fifteen months ago.

Italy Opposed to Greeks in Albania

By Associated Press.
ROME, via Paris, July 3.—Commenting on the reported movement of Greek bands toward the Gulf of Avlona, which is a part of the hinterland of Avlona, the Giornale d'Italia says:

"Italy cannot tolerate such a patent violation of the Conference of London in a part of Albania directly affecting Italian interests. Either an official or unofficial advance in that direction assumes, from an Italian point of view, greater gravity than the Serbian and Montenegrin occupation of Albania, Triana and Scutari."

The Italians occupied the rocky and uninhabited island of Saseno, commanding the entrance to the Gulf of Avlona, October 30, 1914, and the environs of Avlona itself on December 25, 1914, after Prince William of Wied and nearly all members of the international commission had left Albania, which fell into a state of anarchy. Avlona is 55 miles south-west of Berat.

Status of Armenian May Be Complicated

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 3.—Ambassador Page at London called the state department today to lay that the British steamer Armenien, torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine, had been "renounced" by the British government, but that the requisition had been canceled before she sailed from Newport News. The status of the ship as forfeited to the United States, however, is unchanged as the dispatch, not yet made public, does not clear up the question of charter.

Whitman Convicted of Becker's Guilt

By Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., July 3.—Governor Whitman was today convicted of the crime of having permitted the release of the man known as "Red" Barker, who was charged with the murder of the late Senator Charles Becker. The conviction was by a majority of 10 to 9 in the state senate.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN, FINANCIER, WHO WAS SHOT TWICE BY CRANK THIS MORNING.

BRITAIN TO BORROW $100,000,000 IN U. S.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 3.—Negotiations were reported today to be in progress by officials of the British treasury and a group of New York bankers, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co. and others, for the flotation in this country of a $100,000,000 British war loan. Reports disagreed as to the nature of the proposed loan. In some sources it was described as a part of the great British war loan of $5,000,000,000, recently authorized, while in other quarters it was said that the loan to be floated here would be a sure one, bearing an interest rate of 5 per cent.

It was understood that the offering would be increased possibly to $200,000,000 if the bonds were well received by American investors. Bankers believe that the loan will mature in ten years. Indications are said to have been received here that the British treasury will rule within a few days that war bonds sold outside of Great Britain shall be free of the British income tax. Unless this were done, it was said, there could be little hope that the issue would be popular in America.

Proceeds of the loan, it is said, will be left in America to be drawn against by the British government in the purchase of war munitions, foodstuffs and other supplies in the United States. It was the belief here that Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Co., who sailed for London some time ago, is working out the details of the proposed loan with British bankers.

MILLIONAIRE WILL NOT DIE FROM INJURY

GLEN COVE, July 3.—It was learned authoritatively here late today that the British Ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring Rice, was the guest of Mr. Morgan overnight and was at the breakfast table today and witnessed the shooting of the noted financier.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 3.—J. P. Morgan, head of the big banking house of his name, and financial agent in this country of the British government, was shot twice at his country home, near Glen Cove, Long Island, by a man who entered the Morgan home shortly before 9 o'clock today.

Mr. Morgan was not seriously wounded. One of the shots took effect in his hip, the other in his breast, tearing the flesh and passing out through his arm. The assailant was overpowered by servants, placed in the Morgan automobile and rushed to Glen Cove. There he declared he was Frank Holt, Cornell faculty member. He asserted that he was a "Christian gentleman," and had felt it his duty to persuade Mr. Morgan to end the war. The effect on the stock market was hardly noticeable.

Desperate Fight With Servants

The man who shot Mr. Morgan came to Glen Cove a week ago. Today he hired an automobile and went to the Morgan home on Matinick Point. He rang the bell. When the butler answered he called for Mr. Morgan. He said that he was an old friend of Mr. Morgan, but was refused admission to the house.

The man then pressed a pistol against the stomach of the butler, who screamed, and pushed his way past the servant into the hall. Mr. Morgan was approaching the front door through the hall at the time. He asked what the trouble was. The answer was a shot which took effect in the hip.

Mr. Morgan staggered and fell into a chair. The butler, once the assailant's back was turned, picked up a brass coal hod from the fireplace and brought it down on the assailant's head, but too late to prevent a second shot.

The butler fell on the man, wrested the weapon away and overpowered him. Servants came running in answer to his call and the sheriff's office and a physician were telephoned. The man was arrested and taken to Glen Cove.

A satchel which the man brought to Glen Cove was found near a hedge on the Morgan property. The satchel was filled with dynamite. It was said that the assailant was seen yesterday near Mr. Morgan's home.

Another version of the entrance of the intruder into the Morgan house is to the effect that he had no trouble in gaining admission. He went to the door and asked to see Mr. Morgan, saying that he was an old friend. Word was taken to Mr. Morgan that some one wanted to see him.

Dr. W. H. Zabriskie of Glen Cove was immediately summoned and Dr. Markoe of this city was sent for. Mr. Morgan's wounds were examined and word was given out that it was not believed that they were necessarily serious.

Prisoner Tells His Reasons

Justice of the Peace Luyster questioned the prisoner. He told the justice that he had no quarrel with Mr. Morgan personally, but felt that the time had come for the war to end. It was becoming more and more unbearable, he said, and it was his firm belief that he should go to Mr. Morgan and ask him to end it. This, he knew, Mr. Morgan could accomplish because of his great influence. "I wanted to see Mr. Morgan and to reason with him," the man said. "I have nothing against him."

The assailant was cut over the eye by the blow from the coal hod and had been bleeding freely. He also was limping as a result of his encounter with the Morgan servant.

Mr. Morgan apparently did not consider himself seriously wounded. When it was reported that he was shot, the Morgan house was the target of a volley of telephone inquiries from New York. The first of these calls was answered by Mr. Morgan himself.

WHY SUFFER LONGER FROM ANTS?

When Their Extermination Is a Comparatively Simple Matter?

If you should ask the average housekeeper to name the principal annoyances with which she has to contend, ants would invariably be given a prominent place in the list.

This will not hold true for any great length of time, however, for women everywhere are rapidly learning of the great discovery made by a baker and candy-maker in Los Angeles, whose place was overrun with ants, but who originated a paste which rid his shop entirely of them in one day. So rapidly did the news of this discovery spread that it was necessary to build a large factory to supply the demand.

This remedy is put up for general use under the name of Kellogg's Ant Paste and can be obtained at all good drug stores. Women everywhere are using it with surprising results. Try a package today.—Advertisement.

NAZIMOVA COMING TO PLAY 'WAR BRIDES' IN OAKLAND

ALLA NAZIMOVA, FAMED RUSSIAN STAR, SOON TO APPEAR AT THE ORPHEUM IN 'WAR BRIDES'

Nazimova is coming to Oakland. The Orpheum management makes this announcement with pardonable pride. It is notably the most important engagement of a star the Orpheum theater has ever been able to arrange.

Nazimova is to present 'War Brides,' the play which really started the country and has society women's clubs in a blaze of interest throughout the land.

'War Brides' is by Maxine Craig Wentworth. It was originally printed in the Century Magazine. Nazimova read it, was thrilled with the story, had it dramatized, played it at the New York

Police, made a tremendous sensation with it, and was urged to accept a brief tour of the Orpheum circuit in the play. A small fortune had to be expended to secure the production, but the result has been well worth while.

The Orpheum management now announces that it is receiving mail orders for Nazimova's engagement, which begins on Sunday, July 11. The usual Orpheum prices are to prevail, in spite of the almost impossible expense of the engagement. The Orpheum announces that it will fill these mail orders in the order of their receipt at the box office.

FEAR TROUBLE WITH INDIANS

Officers Prepare as Mojaves Dance Fanatic War Dance.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 3.—Fears of an outbreak of Mojave Indians against the Mexican residents at Needles because of the murder of Lee Irving, an Indian, were expressed last night by officers who have armed themselves prepared for trouble. The Indians held a weird dance yesterday, in which war cries played a part in the rites.

Irving is the second Indian killed within a week. He is believed to have been stabbed because he aided in the capture of Jesus Marcus and Juan Ramon, who are held in connection with the attempted murder of Policeman Claude Fletcher during a riot at a Mexican dance.

Marcus and Ramon were brought here yesterday from Needles because of threats of lynching.

SUIT GOES WIDE, FROM VICTIM, BACK

Peculiar working out of the provisions of the employers' liability act and of the methods whereby the employer insures his risks, was evidenced today in the suit of the state compensation insurance fund to collect $15,500 damages from the Pinn Catering Company for injuries incurred by B. W. McIntosh last February when he was run down by an automobile belonging to the concern.

McIntosh sought to collect from his employer. His employer, relying upon his insurance policy, passed the obligations up to the insurance company. Then the underwriters came back upon the Pinn Company as having been directly responsible. It is alleged, for the injuries to McIntosh, in order to complete the circle of litigation the Pinn Company might sue McIntosh for damages to its automobile.

POPE NEUTRAL, BUT NOT INDIFFERENT

Kaiser Promised to Respect Churches Where Possible, Pontiff Says.

PARIS, July 3.—An account of a visit paid to Pope Benedict last Monday by Bernard Lautet, director of the review Hebdomadaire, who formerly was secretary of the French embassy to the Vatican, is published in the Figaro. While M. Lautet does not pretend that the report of his reception at the Vatican is an interview, he quotes the words said to have been used by the pontiff after being told by the journalist of the impression caused in France by Louis Latapie's interview with His Holiness printed by La Liberté.

When he mentioned neutrality, M. Lautet says, he was interrupted by the Pope with the exclamation, "Oh, that France would understand well that this neutrality is not indifference. I love France as I did fifteen years ago and I have remained the same."

The Pope referred to his efforts in behalf of a French mother who wrote him regarding her son, who was a prisoner in Germany and told of sending a modest sum to France for charity.

PEACE PRAYERS HIS

"I have prayed for peace," the pontiff is quoted as saying, "having no other concern than to implore the Lord to restore tranquility to a world thrown into disorder. You speak to me of the Cathedral at Rheims which the Germans continue to attack. But from the beginning, I directed the Cardinal Archbishop of Cologne to express my complaints to the emperor and to ask him to spare religious edifices in the future. The reply has been the best could be done. If this promise has not been kept, what can I do about it? I have done all I have been able to do in this, and many other things which France ignores."

The pope's words are not in principle the atrocities committed in principle is not sufficient. I condemn them concretely. Everybody knows Germany has committed some atrocities but I cannot specify reproaches as some would have it, because I have not the necessary elements."

At the sound of the Angelus, Pope Benedict withdrew. M. Lautet asserts, with the words:

"In any case I condemn highly the martyrdom of poor Belgian priests and so many other horrors on which the light has been thrown. I await only the occasion to convince France of my sympathy."

GIANT CHORUS READY TO SING

An Excellent Performance of "Elijah" Promised at the Auditorium.

It is no wonder that a concert of the magnitude of the one to be offered at the Oakland Auditorium next Wednesday evening, July 7, is heard in Oakland with interest in the event is running high.

The splendid chorus of 250 voices, a symphony orchestra and the eminent soloists which are to be heard in Mendelssohn's great music drama "Elijah," all combine to make an occasion of great importance.

The chief solo work of the performance falls to the lot of Mrs. Grace Davis Northrup, the New York soprano, who has come here especially for this performance, and J. Francis Jones, the Welsh baritone, whose singing of the dramatic aria of Mendelssohn's masterpiece is certain to arouse the greatest enthusiasm.

In keeping with the democratic purpose of the concert, it has been decided to make a uniform admission rate to this concert covering all the seats in the Auditorium and at a price within the reach of all.

The opportunity of hearing the great festival chorus and orchestra with four soloists in a performance of this character is seldom offered to the public at a popular price of admission. It is expected that the largest audience which has yet attended a concert in the new Auditorium will be present upon this occasion.

The Alameda county 1915 chorus has transferred its final rehearsals for the performance of "Elijah" from the Chamber of Commerce hall to the ballroom of the Hotel Oakland, which has been placed at their disposal by the courtesy of Victor Reiter, manager of the hotel. Here the chorus will hold a special rehearsal Sunday afternoon. A great chorus in active rehearsal always an interesting spectacle and the guests of the hotel were much interested in the meeting of the chorus Thursday evening in the hotel ballroom.

The great choruses of "Elijah" makes such demands upon the singers, conductor and accompanist that a rehearsal is quite an exhausting occasion. The chorus, however, is almost letter perfect in its preparation for the event of next Wednesday evening.

"I didn't have the heart to send him to jail. I intended to start a civil action, but Peralta's relatives settled my claim for $700 for the note he gave me."

Peralta, according to Mrs. Peralta, who is a wealthy widow, succeeded in making love to her and while in her confidence induced her to cash his check for $125.

he had obtained the money his ardor cooled and she had him arrested.

figure in mind. It appearing from the administrative viewpoint that the honor system is a success, the important emphasis during the educative period of ideals of integrity and honesty and the obligations of preserving them unassailed, ought to produce a higher moral quality of manhood and womanhood.

Even in these days of so much war one stands with head lowered at the news of Porfirio Diaz's death in Mexico. He was one of the big men of his epoch, with the will, brain and talents for mastery that would have made him an impressive figure in any country.

Ah, could I know why over me
His spirit has such potency,
Then might I know how Love began
And stays, the mystery of Man.

8-HOUR DAY AT CITY HALL
NO MORE EARLY LOAFING

BERKELEY, July 3.—No more will employees of the Berkeley city hall appear at work late or sidle off before the clock indicates the stipulated hour for quitting. A time-clock system without the time-clock, a sort of an "hour-mechanism," has been installed, and with it the obligation for a full eight hours of labor in the city's behalf.

The eight-hour law for city employees was brought up at last night's council meeting by Commissioner Walter Gumpertz, who advocated it with a "reverse English" on the usual motive. Gumpertz seeks to prevent the employees from working only seven and seven and a half hours.

Another move for efficiency, and one that may not be received favorably by the council chamber orators, developed with the laying over of the Walnut-street opening for two weeks. Mayor Irving instructed the large partisan crowd to have its leaders prepare briefs on either side of the question and assured them that the council would give to them the most careful consideration.

Walnut street has been verbally argued in the council chambers on an average of once in three months for the last two years.

It was in response to a problem to plan an ideal home on a floor space 2000 ft. that this plan was evolved. Most of the students were having trouble with their plans. One student, who was named John, had a plan for a home that was 1000 ft. long and 2000 ft. wide. He had a plan for a home that was 1000 ft. long and 2000 ft. wide. "And Nature, the old nurse, took
The child upon her knee,
Saying, 'Here is a story book
Thy Father has written for thee.'"

It was one of the tourists who quoted this recently in "the sight" seeing motor bus, coming from Piedmont. He was expatiating on the glories of California, and especially on the wonderful scenery around the bay. "These California children are surely favorites of the old nurse," he said, "since for them she has reserved the loveliest book of all."

It is during the Fourth of July holidays that they love best to study it, for the summer vacation days have fairly arrived, and people have learned to wander far afield.

There is so much to do in California that the days are full of interest. There is motoring for those who like long journeys and shorter trips for week-end tours. There is fishing in the streams, hunting in the mountains, camping in the open for those who like the life primeval.

At Del Monte there is the golf tournament, which annually calls the best golfers of the state to the historic hotel. But there are many other things to do besides playing golf. There is swimming in the big tank every day, and many of the girls of the smart set have learned to swim at Del Monte and they make very fine records indeed. Motoring to Pebble Beach Lodge and over to Carmel is one of the favorite pastimes, and Carmel-by-the-Sea grows each year more attractive. In all the many Santa Barbara homes there are week-end parties, and life is very gay there in the mid-summer holidays. In Santa Barbara, and at Montecito, the moonlight picnic is of interest, and it is romantic enough to please the young people. A big bonfire is built on the beach, and an elaborate supper is served, and the moon looks down on a happy group of people, enjoying to the full a holiday worth while.

Further south is Coronado, and, of course, this year, there is the beautiful San Diego Exposition to absorb one's attention. The grounds are lovely and the buildings architecturally beautiful. And one always motors over to Ti Juana—to the old Spanish settlement. "Ti Juana" means "Aunt Jane," and one is over the line at Ti Juana.

At Coronado, very good tennis is played and motoring into the mountains around San Diego affords interesting hours for venturesome people.

At Tahoe the lure of the mountain calls many to higher heights. There are expeditions to Fallen Leaf Lake and to Deer Park Inn, and brave riders find much to beckon them onward and upward along the mountain trails of the high Sierras.

And there is always the wonderfully beautiful lake, on the shores of which are daily picnics. The "Wild Goose" is the name of the launch which daily steams away from the Tavern, bound for some lovely spot on the lake, where happy picnickers spend their day.

The great redwoods of the Russian river country offer a picturesque environment for camp life, and there is bathing and boating in the swift rushing river to vary the many enjoyable hours of the holiday season.

In the Santa Cruz mountains are picturesque motor roads, and many people go each year into the great redwood reservation known as the "Big Basin." And dwellers in the mountains find their way often to the beach at Santa Cruz, for the sea bathing which is always so safe there. There are leading families around the bay who always include in vacation outings, one or two trips to the great Yosemite Valley. They are made in the early summer when the falls are highest: from the melting snow, and in the depths of winter when the Ice King holds sway over the valley.

And in summer, once in the valley, the spirit of mountain climbing sweeps over everyone, and there are expeditions to Glacier Point, and other trails, and the long ride over the mountains to the big trees. It is all on a mammoth scale, and few vacation trips can equal those lived out in the heart of the great Yosemite Valley.

At Catalina there is mountain climbing, and there is also the deep sea tuna fishing that is becoming famous the world over.

The long motor trip still carries its appeal, and this mid-summer will see many automobile parties, bound for Crater Lake in Oregon. The road leads through some of the most wonderful scenery in the world, unrivaled for picturesqueness and grandeur.

And because one stays at home, no one stays indoors. Beautiful Mosswood park in the heart of the city, might be some wonderful place in a historical European city, so old are the trees, so lovely. Many of them were brought here years ago from all over the world by the late J. Mora Moss, and some of them are found nowhere else in America but in our own Mosswood park.

Just a few miles out on the railway are splendid redwoods, the trees all Californians so dearly love, and there is Trestle Glen also, to which many car lines offer transportation. We too have a shoreline on the beach of which children may spend safe and happy days—so it seems that all the world may play in holiday time in our own city. And the hours that one may steal away from the duties of the day may well be passed in the dream city by the Golden Gate.

Evening at the Exposition! Sunset on Tamalpais, on the bay, on the straits, and out on the far Pacific! Nature's wonderful color tones, for the foreground, and against them the soft pastel shades of the Exposition buildings—and later the soft glow of many lights, shining upon pillars, upon columns, upon statuary. These are "Arabian Nights" come true for those who stay at home and spend hours at the great Exposition.

And our Fourth of July holidays are gay ones—with our streets showing everywhere the great flag of our country—with our lake picturesque with boats, and with fireworks. With a bright throng of merry-makers everywhere expressing "the joy of living," which is always to be found by those who look for it. Never have there been more joyous days.

The spirit of vacation loves California; the lure of the land lies warm on the Western shore. The spell of California holds the land in its charm—and like gipsies of the old-time Romany Rye, the people answer to the call in the happy July days. The mighty mountains o'er it, Below, the white seas swirl—Just California, stretching down The middle of the world.

FAIR PEACE WORKERS.

MRS. HAVENS' GUESTS.

Today Mrs. Frank C. Havens

opened her home, "Wildwood," at Piedmont in honor of the women workers of the Peace conference, and she gave a tea for them which she had sent out nearly four hundred cards. The hours were from three to six, and "Wildwood" was filled with a throng of guests during these hours.

Refreshments were served on the lower floor of the home, and this opens out on rustic paths leading down the canyon, most attractive in the summer time. The California canyons are of unique and rare beauty, and those immediately surrounding our city are of an unusual degree of picturesqueness.

A very delightful program was given in the large music room—the speaker of the hour, Mrs. Sewall, being presented by Mrs. Havens. The latter spoke of the Spiritual Peace movement—of the inward peace to be evolved by the individual, "and without this individual development by the many, it is difficult to establish permanent peace." Mrs. Havens made a plea for spiritual peace as the great factor in the peace movement.

Edwin Markham, who was one of the guests of the day, read from his recent book of poems, "The Shores of Happiness," and Mr. Fred Harrison sang a song dedicated to President Wilson.

Miss Una Fairweather contributed much to the success of the problem, singing in a charming way, very delightful musical numbers.

Among the guests of honor were Mrs. May Wright Sewall and the following committee, the "Home Advisers," of the conference:

Mrs. Hearst, Mrs. John F. Swift, Mrs. William H. Crocker, Mrs. C. E. Cameron, Mrs. David Starr Jordan, Mrs. Frank K. McGee, Mrs. James W. McPherson, Mrs. John A. B. Hart, Mrs. Mary McPherson, Mrs. J. C. Levy, Mrs. Jesse Ellsworth, Mrs. Allen Park, Mrs. Julia Sanborn, Mrs. M. T. Gannett, Mrs. Leona Brown, Mrs. Jeanne Engstrom, Mrs. Frank Frederick, Mrs. W. E. Collis, Mrs. May Andrews, Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Mrs. Ruth Rogers, Mrs. Anita Whitman, Mrs. Charles C. Moore, Mrs. James A. Barr, Mrs. Charles Schick, Mrs. Mary McPherson, Mrs. E. K. Stearns.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Havens were Mrs. May Wright Sewall, Mrs. Katherine Tingley of Point Loma, Mrs. Philip Snowden of England, Countess Dumas of France, and Miss Hosford of New York.

Mrs. Sewall is a great friend of Mrs. Tingley, and she has been visiting the latter in her home at Point Loma, where is established the Theosophical school about which so much has been written in the past year.

Mrs. Tingley is now with Mrs. Sewall across the bay.

Mrs. Philip Snowden, who is from England, represents five organizations, numbering 36,000 members.

Her husband is a member of the House of Commons.

The Countess Dumas is one of the very prominent women of Paris, and her husband is now fighting in the ranks in France.

Miss Hosford is the historian for President Wilson, and is one of the brilliant writers of the East.

Mrs. Ida Husted Harper has many old friends in Oakland whom she met twenty years ago, when she spent some months in Oakland. Mrs. Harper wrote the biography of Susan Anthony, and she is one of the very clever writers of New York.

Among those who assisted Mrs. Frank C. Havens in entertaining her guests, making up a most interesting receiving party were:

Mrs. Hearst, Mrs. John F. Swift, Mrs. William H. Crocker, Mrs. C. E. Cameron, Mrs. David Starr Jordan, Mrs. Frank K. McGee, Mrs. James W. McPherson, Mrs. John A. B. Hart, Mrs. Mary McPherson, Mrs. J. C. Levy, Mrs. Jesse Ellsworth, Mrs. Allen Park, Mrs. Julia Sanborn, Mrs. M. T. Gannett, Mrs. Leona Brown, Mrs. Jeanne Engstrom, Mrs. Frank Frederick, Mrs. W. E. Collis, Mrs. May Andrews, Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Mrs. Ruth Rogers, Mrs. Anita Whitman, Mrs. Charles C. Moore, Mrs. James A. Barr, Mrs. Charles Schick, Mrs. Mary McPherson, Mrs. E. K. Stearns.

There were many Eastern guests assembled at Mrs. Havens' unique reception, who enjoyed this visit to a California home, in the heart of beautiful Piedmont.

Now that the most distinguished women in the world will be in California this year, it must be remembered that many things have com-binated to make this quarter of a century the most brilliant period for women in the history of the world. And it must not be forgotten that California has bravely led the way.

In the suffrage work, the Oakland smart set led the way twenty years ago, added, of course, by many other sets.

Now that Mrs. Belmont's workers are in the field in California, and that Ida Husted Harper is here after an absence of twenty years, added interest attaches to the splendid tribute to California paid this week by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw.

Writing in the Metropolitan, the history of her great suffrage work, she has this to say of the campaign in California twenty years ago.

"We had some unusual experiences in the California campaign, and the display of affluence on every side was not the least impressive of them. In one town, after a heavy rain, I remember seeing a number of little boys sweeping the dirt from the gutters, washing it, and finding tiny nuggets of gold. We learned that these boys sometimes made two or three dollars a day in this way, and that the streets of the town—I think it was Marysville—contained so much gold that a sphere of effort to level the whole town and remove the streets for the right to sweep out the gold. This sounds like the kind of thing Americans tell the trustful visitors from foreign lands, but it is quite true. Nuggets indeed were so numerous that at one of our meetings, when we were taking up a collection, I cheerfully suggested that our audience drop a few into the box, as we had not had a nugget since we reached the state. There were no nuggets in the subsequent collection, but there was a note which read: 'If Dr. Shaw will accept a gold nugget, I will see that she does not leave town without one.' I read this aloud, and added, 'I have never refused a gold nugget in my life.' The following day brought me a pin made of a very beautiful gold nugget, and a few days later another Californian produced a cluster of smaller nuggets which he had washed out of a panful of earth, and insisted on my accepting half of them. I was not accustomed to this sort of generosity, but it was characteristic of the spirit of the state. Nowhere else, during our campaign experiences, were we so royally treated in every way. As a single example among many, I may mention that Mrs. Leland Stanford once happened to be on a train with us and met Miss Anthony. As a result of this chance encounter, she gave our whole party passes on all the lines of the Southern Pacific railroad, for use during the entire campaign. Similar generosity was shown us on every side, and the question of finance did not burden us from the beginning to the end of the California work."

Susan Anthony, Dr. Shaw and Mary Hay came to Oakland twenty years ago. In many of the other states there had met with insult, with injury, with ridicule. In Oakland they found friends, they were honored at public receptions, and, while the campaign was last, the work was started that ultimately reached success. And the part played by the Oakland smart set has become an interesting chapter in the history of California advancement.

The R. A. Moores, Mrs. John Valentine St., the Whitneys, the Havens, the Howards, the Lloyd Baldwins, the Emersons, the Borlunds, the Parrells, Mrs. Fred Stoll were among those who took the lead, and whose influence later meant much to California women.

MRS. C. C. CLAY HONORED BY CONFEDERATE WOMEN.

Mrs. C. C. Clay was the complimentary guest at one of the largest receptions of the week, given for her by the Albert Sydney Johnson Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Some weeks ago Mrs. Clay was made the state president of the organization, a compliment which was much appreciated by the members of her chapter.

The large reception was given in the auditorium of the Missouri building, and it made a very delightful environment for a social event of so much importance. The main decorations were American flags, and the American colors were also festooned around the picture of President Woodrow Wilson.

There was a very fine musical program for the entertainment of the guests. One of the singers, Mrs. Wilson, had a very beautiful voice and she sang with much artistic finish songs of the sunny South, one of them, "My Old Kentucky Home," carrying the hearers straight away to the land of their forebears.

Other well-known singers were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rosborough, and their accompaniments were extremely well played by Mrs. James McClure (Mabel Eastland). Mr. Rosborough sang two charming ballads and Mrs. Rosborough, who has an exceedingly fine voice, responded to an enthusiastic encore with "Mamma's Little Pickaninny Rose."

Later in the afternoon very delicious refreshments were served, the entire reception indicative of that charming hospitality characteristic always of the South.

Among the many guests were:

Mrs. Hearst, Mrs. John F. Swift, Mrs. William H. Crocker, Mrs. C. E. Cameron, Mrs. David Starr Jordan, Mrs. Frank K. McGee, Mrs. James W. McPherson, Mrs. John A. B. Hart, Mrs. Mary McPherson, Mrs. J. Mrs. Clay, who was beautifully gowned, made a very charming study. Her reception gown was of lavender satin, the skirt made short, and the corsage was of very rare and most beautiful lace, the lace continuing in a tunic effect over the skirt. Her ornaments were pearls.

Mrs. William H. Creed, who is a popular and well-known member of the Albert Sydney Johnson Chapter, assisted in receiving the guests. Her gown was very handsome, of black satin, very elaborately trimmed with beautiful Chantilly lace.

Mrs. Pritchard was in black satin, and she wore a wonderful necklace, 200 years old, and exceedingly handsome.

There were many callers at the beautiful Missouri building during the afternoon and the complimentary reception for Mrs. Clay was a great success.

the, had met with insult, with injury, with ridicule. In Oakland they found friends, they were honored at public receptions, and, while the campaign was last, the work was started that ultimately reached success. And the part played by the Oakland smart set has become an interesting chapter in the history of California advancement.

Mrs. C. C. Clay was the complimentary guest at one of the largest receptions of the week, given for her by the Albert Sydney Johnson Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Some weeks ago Mrs. Clay was made the state president of the organization, a compliment which was much appreciated by the members of her chapter.

The large reception was given in the auditorium of the Missouri building, and it made a very delightful environment for a social event of so much importance. The main decorations were American flags, and the American colors were also festooned around the picture of President Woodrow Wilson.

There was a very fine musical program for the entertainment of the guests. One of the singers, Mrs. Wilson, had a very beautiful voice and she sang with much artistic finish songs of the sunny South, one of them, "My Old Kentucky Home," carrying the hearers straight away to the land of their forebears.

Famous Title Bouts Took Place on 'Fourth'

California for First Time Will Miss Independence Day Championship Battles

By THE TIMEKEEPER. For the first time in the history of pugilism, California will be without a big Fourth of July ring contest, and for the first time in many years California fans will be without a championship match to interest them on the anniversary of American independence.

Our big holiday has always been a big one in pugilism in every part of the country, and California has come in for more than her part of the great matches that have been fought on that day. Many times there have been as many as two championship matches in the Golden State on the Fourth, but those days are now passed.

GLORIOUS BATTLES OF PAST. Probably the most memorable matches that have been offered to the California fans on the Fourth were the Jeffries-Johnson and the Nelson-Gans battles. In the past ten years every "Fourth" has seen a big battle staged for California fans.

In 1905 Los Angeles was the scene of the title bout, when Abe Attell successfully defended his title against Frankie Neil. On the same day San Francisco fans were treated to a great amateur battle, Lew Powell, then amateur light-weight champion of the United States, fought a whirlwind battle to a draw against Willie Voss.

On the same day, when the famous Colma battle was the main attraction of the big day in 1908. It was the famous fight in which Gans, exhausted by the inhuman weight reduction he had been forced to make, was worn down and knocked out in the seventeenth round.

NEIL-GANS BATTLE. Nelson and Gans, the famous Colma battle were the main attractions of the big day in 1908. It was the famous fight in which Gans, exhausted by the inhuman weight reduction he had been forced to make, was worn down and knocked out in the seventeenth round.

KETCHUM'S HARDEST BATTLE. The best battle between Stanley Ketchell and Billy Papke at Colma was the attraction for the Fourth of July, 1909. Ketchell was given the decision, but Eddie Smith, then the sporting editor of The Tribune, and one of the greatest referees and athletic authorities in the country, said that the battle should have been a draw.

"RED" MURRAY RELEASED. NEW YORK, July 2. — The New York National League club today announced that it has released the veteran outfielder John J. (Red) Murray, unconditionally.

OWNERS MUST HAVE WINNING TEAM IN SALT LAKE. SALT LAKE, July 3. — President Frank Murphy of the Salt Lake City baseball club wired Cliff Ketchell, manager of the Salt Lake City team, today in Los Angeles to loosen up and strengthen the team, even if he had to bring out a whole big league baseball club.

At a meeting in Salt Lake last night, the directors of the Salt Lake club decided that they must have a winning team to Salt Lake and said that they will furnish the money necessary to help reinforce the club.

SALT LAKE IS NOW COMPLETELY DESPERATE to get back into the first division again, they being in fourth place now. The team has lost their last three starts against Los Angeles and the slump which the fans have been expecting since the Bees started their sport early in the season has not arrived.

POISON DRAUGHT

Suicide Attempt of Former Exposition Attache May Prove Successful.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3—Marcus L. Bishop, former secretary of the Philippine Commission at the Panama Pacific Exposition, is in a precarious state at St. Mary's hospital this morning as the result of a fall from a balcony outside last night. Bishop resigned three weeks ago from his post at the Fair and since then has been suffering from malaria-chills.

Bishop had been taking a solution of bichloride of mercury while in his room at the Victoria Hotel, Bush and Stockton streets. He was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital and later removed to St. Mary's Dr. Zornwald, who is attending him, said today that he had a passing fancy for the use of bichloride of mercury, however, making it impossible to forecast the result.

Bishop voluntarily resigned from the Philippine commission, according to a statement made by the director-general today. He intended accepting a position in Washington and there his wife preceded him. He is 35 years old and his family reside in Indiana.
